The shape of things to come.....
We have seen changes within the East Park ward over the years, but how many changes can you say for certain have made an effective and positive change to your daily life? A large majority of those changes have happened whether you liked them or not! We live in a diverse community with people of all ethnic backgrounds and faiths. By addressing the inequalities that exist within neighbourhoods, we can develop and grow to be an effective force that can respond to and influence, discussions that affect the provision of local services we receive. Together we can determine local priorities – and respond effectively to make a lasting change. We can change the perception of the ward and promote a positive image of our community, which in turn delivers employment and economic growth within the ward. Cohesion and inclusion among the local neighbourhoods is a vital key to giving everybody the chance to have their voice heard.
If chosen by you I pledge to work in partnership with you the people, to the best of my ability. I will respond to any questions or queries you may have, and make you, the people, a priority. I will be available to the community for the community.
My aim as an elected councillor is to develop a relationship with the youth and elderly members in the ward. To involve them in a partnership scheme that promotes better understanding and mutual respect between the young and the elderly alike. We must give the youth of the ward a chance to change their perception of the elderly and learn from each other.

Darren Friel working for East Park

Opposed to the development of a proposed home for children on Brooklands Parade without further guarantees that the residents will not be subjected to nuisance.

Stowheath Lane open space has become neglected. I propose to take action to push for funds to bring this up to an acceptable standard.

This ex-sub-station on Deans Road is a danger to children. It is totally unsecured and has become a haven for children absconding from school and also a drug den. Action needs to be taken.

I will tackle poor lighting in the area such as in the alley between Chillington Fields and Plascom Road as this is a good way of improving security for residents.

East Park is lacking in facilities. I will make the development of the park a priority and will endeavour to increase leisure facilities in the area.

Local youths with too much time on their hands cause these kinds of problems. Better youth facilities are needed.
